Assignments

At Adecco, we pride ourselves on making the right “matches” — matching your job preferences and skill level with our clients’ needs. You are required to notify the Adecco office of your availability for work by contacting your local office at least once per week. Once you have notified Adecco of your availability, we will contact you if we have an assignment that matches your skills, experience and qualifications. We must have a working telephone number where we can reach you or leave a message.

When you accept an assignment, you will be making a commitment that you will work for the duration of the assignment.

To prepare you for starting a new assignment, please make sure you have:

- The company’s name
- The location, hours and length of assignment
- The specific tasks you will be doing
- The hourly rate
- The name of the person to whom you report
- Any other details that will help you on your assignment
- If you are going to be late for your assignment or have any emergency or illness that prevents you from going to work, you must call Adecco prior to the start of the assignment. Adecco will call the client and explain the situation.

All of our offices have 24-hour answering services, so you can leave a message at any time — day or night. Failing to call us prior to the start of the assignment when you are late or when you cannot go to an assignment may result in disciplinary action up to and including a voluntary quit and/or termination.

Assignments

Your wages.

You will be paid an hourly wage for each assignment, determined by the assignment requirements, your skills, and the wage rates in your local area. For this reason, your hourly wage may vary from job to job. Your Adecco Representative will tell you how much each assignment will pay before you accept an assignment.

Taxes.

Adecco will deduct only those taxes required by law — Federal, State, and City withholding taxes as well as Social Security. Adecco pays Unemployment Insurance Tax, Social Security Tax, and you will be covered by Workers' Compensation Insurance. We will mail a W-2 Wage and Tax Statement to you by January 31st of the following year. Please inform your Adecco Representative of any address changes immediately to ensure timely delivery of your W-2 form.

While on assignment:

- Follow and comply with the rules, policies, procedures, and working conditions established by Adecco clients for their premises.
- Promptly bring any and all complaints or disputes about your pay, or your assignment or working conditions to your Adecco Representative and/or the Adecco Employee Relations Department.
- Behave in a professional manner. This means that your personal conduct, including conversations in the workplace, must not violate Adecco policies including, but not limited to, Adecco Anti-harassment Policy contained in this handbook. You will refrain from threatening action, conduct or language.
- Your employment with Adecco requires you to comply with our policies and procedures. You may be disciplined up to and including termination if you don't comply with our policies and procedures.

Assignments

- Your employment with Adecco is at-will and may be terminated at any time except for unlawful reasons.
- Follow the time submittal procedures described in the handbook to ensure we have the information required to pay you.
- Arrive on time each day of your assignment.
- Dress appropriately for each assignment. Your Adecco Representative will tell you what to expect, but when in doubt always dress more conservatively.
- Do not be afraid to ask questions on the job about the tasks you are performing. If you are unsure of something, check with the client Representative.
- Do not make personal calls from the job assignment/client site. If you must make a personal call, do so during a break. Making long distance calls while on assignment is not permitted and could result in disciplinary action including termination.
- Do not approach the client about full-time employment. If you have an interest in a position, let your Adecco Representative know.

Family and Medical Leave Act

The Federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) allows employees to take an unpaid leave of absence up to a maximum of twelve (12) weeks in connection with the birth of an employee's child, placement of a child with an employee for adoption or foster care, a serious health condition of an employee or an employee's immediate family member (child, spouse or parent), or a qualifying situation that may arise for a parent's, child's, or spouse's active duty or call to active duty in support of a contingency operation, or up to a maximum of twenty-six (26) weeks in a case involving leave to care for a qualifying recovering parent, child, spouse or next of kin (nearest blood relative) who is a service member in the Armed Forces.

In order for Adecco to determine your eligibility for FMLA leave, you must make a specific request for such leave. The criteria you must meet to qualify for FMLA leave are as follows:⁵

- You must have been employed by Adecco for at least twelve (12) months and have worked at least 1,250 hours in the preceding twelve (12) months.
- You must submit appropriate documentation supporting your own serious health condition and the length of such condition (from a physician or practitioner), or documentation supporting your immediate family member's own serious health condition, and the length of such condition (from a physician or practitioner), or documentation supporting the adoption or foster placement of a child, or documentation supporting the contingency operation, if available.

FMLA leaves are granted for a maximum of twelve (12) weeks (or 26 weeks in a case involving leave to care for a recovering service member) in a rolling twelve (12) month period. (In the case of your own or a family member's serious health condition, leaves are granted for the length of incapacity only.)⁶

⁵ Other criteria may apply.

⁶ You may be entitled to additional leave in accordance with State law. Please contact your Adecco representative to learn where you can obtain information regarding your State's law. Questions may be directed to the Benefits department at 877.632-9169.

Safety is everyone's priority

You, as our employee, are Adecco's most important asset.

Always exercise due care while working for Adecco. Most accidents can be prevented with proper caution — whether in an office or industrial environment.

All unsafe working conditions should be reported immediately to your Adecco Representative. Make safety a priority in the work environment.

Call Adecco immediately:

- If you are asked to perform work which was not part of your initial job description.
- If you believe that your working conditions are unsafe.
- If you are injured while on assignment.

Become familiar with each client's safety procedures and equipment.

Injuries on the job

Adecco responsibilities:

- Report the incident to our claims administrator promptly.
- Require our claims administrator to contact you to ensure that you are receiving proper treatment and benefits.
- Monitor your progress and keep in contact with you.
- Coordinate your participation in Adecco's early return-to-work program, STEP, as soon as the physician allows and an appropriate position based on your skills, qualifications and experience can be located.

Should you be injured on the job, follow the Adecco system for workplace injuries.

Your responsibilities:

- Notify your Adecco Representative immediately, by phone or in person.
- Obtain the name of the designated clinic from your Adecco Representative. You may jeopardize your benefits if initially treated by any other doctor, depending on your State's rules.
- If the physician indicates you cannot return to your regular job, notify your Adecco Representative immediately.
- Contact your Adecco Representative after each medical appointment to report on your progress.
- Provide a Doctor's Release Form to your Adecco Representative prior to returning to work.
- Participate in the Adecco STEP Program to facilitate your early return to work. We make it a policy to get injured employees back to work subject to their current physical capabilities, as soon as the doctor permits it.
- Return to work as soon as your doctor provides full or partial release to do so. If you fail to return to work (on either partial or full duty as allowed by your doctor) this may be considered a voluntary quit, or "No Show/No Call" and you will be subject to termination.

Workers' Compensation

Workers' Compensation is defined by a set of rules determined by each State which outlines benefits to employees who have sustained work-related injuries/illnesses. The laws provide for payment of medical bills for treatment due to such injuries and illnesses and reasonable income benefits for employees who may lose time from work. Employees who are seriously injured on the job may be entitled to additional benefits.

Funds for these benefits are provided by Adecco through its Workers' Compensation claims administrator, as required by law. If you are injured on the job or suffer a work-related disability, certain procedures must be followed to ensure that you receive your benefits quickly. Follow the procedures outlined under "Injuries on the Job" on Page 21 within this handbook.

Adecco provides benefits, as required by law, to every employee injured during the course of their employment. However, if we determine that any employee has provided falsified information to Adecco, the physician, or to the claims administrator for the purpose of fraudulently obtaining workers' compensation benefits, we will take the strongest possible action to prosecute that employee to the fullest extent of the law and such employee will no longer be eligible for employment with Adecco.

Unemployment Compensation Insurance

Unemployment compensation insurance is a temporary financial benefit to employees who have lost their jobs due to no fault of their own. The amount of the benefit is based on past work and earnings. Each State has its own set of rules which outline eligibility criteria and benefit amount, and Adecco complies with the State laws.

Funds to cover the costs of unemployment insurance benefits are paid by Adecco. Our third party administrator responds to each State on our behalf.

Your responsibilities:

Should your assignment end or you decide to voluntarily quit:

- It is Adecco policy that you must notify your Adecco Representative within 48 hours, unless this policy is inconsistent with your State's Unemployment Compensation laws.
- Failure to contact Adecco at the end of your assignment or within 48 hours may result in a voluntary quit and/or the loss of unemployment.

Adecco responsibilities:

Upon separation, Adecco will:

- Notify our claims administrator of your reason for leaving and provide documentation as needed.
- Respond to claim forms and requests for information from each State through our claims administrator.

EEO/Diversity statement

Adecco is firmly committed to creating a climate where the different perspectives that diversity brings to its business are valued. Attracting and developing a diverse workforce that reflects the communities in which we serve is at the foundation of this precept. Viewing diversity as an asset is essential in cultivating a workforce that reflects the changing face of the United States.

It is continuing policy of Adecco to afford equal employment opportunity to recruit qualified individuals without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity, marital status, age, disability, veteran status or any other basis protected by law.

This policy encompasses all aspects of the employment relationship, including application and initial employment, job assignment, selection for training opportunities and salary/benefits administration.

Employment decisions will be based on the principles of equal employment opportunity and with the intent to further Adecco's commitment to diversity. All applicants for employment and employees of Adecco may exercise their rights under this policy or Federal, State or local laws at any time.

Anti-harassment and Anti-discrimination policy

Adecco promotes a workplace that is free of harassment and unlawful discrimination based on sex, race, color, religion, national origin, age, marital status, sexual orientation, disability, protected activity and any other basis protected by state or local law which has jurisdiction over the employee. The above forms of harassment and discrimination are unlawful and/or a violation of Adecco policy. They will not be tolerated in the workplace by anyone, including supervisors, co-workers or non-employees. Any retaliation against a complainant (the person who accuses another of unlawful harassment) or individuals cooperating with an investigation is also unlawful and will not be tolerated. For purposes of this policy, "workplace" includes, but is not limited to, Adecco work sites, client sites, Adecco sponsored social events, and work-related travel.

In general, harassment means persistent and unwelcome conduct or actions on any of the bases stated above, or certain protected activity under state or local law. Sexual harassment is one type of harassment and includes unwelcome sexual advances, unwelcome physical contact of a sexual nature or unwelcome verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature. It does not refer to occasional compliments of a socially acceptable nature.

Unwelcome verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature includes, but is not limited to:

- The repeated making of unsolicited, inappropriate gestures or comments.
- The display of offensive sexually graphic materials not necessary for work.

Anti-harassment and Anti-discrimination policy

Harassment on any basis (race, sex, age, disability, etc.)
exists whenever:

- Submission to harassing conduct is made, either explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of an individual's employment.
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for an adverse employment decision affecting an individual.
- The conduct unreasonably interferes with an employee's work or creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment.

Obligation to report.

In order to take appropriate corrective action, Adecco must be sufficiently aware of the harassment or related retaliation. Therefore, if you have experienced or witnessed harassment or related retaliation based on any of the protected categories stated above, you must promptly report such behavior to an Adecco manager or by contacting Adecco's Employee Relations Department at 631.844.7917. Complaints may be made verbally or in writing.

Adecco will respond promptly to complaints of harassment and discrimination. The investigation will be conducted confidentially to the extent possible. Where it is determined that inappropriate conduct has occurred, Adecco will act to eliminate the conduct and impose such corrective action as is necessary, including disciplinary action, up to and including immediate termination.

Deliberate false claims are subject to discipline up to and including termination of employment.

The legal use of over-the-counter medication and controlled substances prescribed by a licensed physician is not prohibited; however, employees are required to notify their supervisor when taking any medication that interferes with their ability to perform the essential functions of a particular assignment prior to or during an assignment at a client's facility.
- Involvement with Illegal Drugs or alcohol which has or may have an adverse impact on the client, where for example it has or may have an effect on an employee's ability to perform his/her duties, may endanger the safety of fellow employees or the public, or may damage the client's or Adecco property, may damage the client's or Adecco reputation for providing safe and dependable work, or may undermine the public's or government's confidence in Adecco or the client.

Substance abuse policy

Where permitted by state law the types of testing that may be requested include the following:

Pre-Assignment, Return to Work, Post Accident, Random and Reasonable Suspicion (For Cause). Where permissible by law, Post-Accident drug testing is mandatory and refusal to comply will result in termination.

Should the client request a drug test for an assignment and the results of a drug and/or alcohol test are positive, the employee should discuss the following options with the appropriate Adecco Representative:

- The right to request a copy of the Adecco "Release and Consent for Drug Testing" form signed by the employee.
- The right to request a copy of his/her drug and/or alcohol test results.
- The right to request an immediate re-test of the employee's original sample at the employee's expense (or as otherwise required by State law) and at a facility designated by Adecco.
 - If the re-test results are positive, the employee's employment with Adecco will be terminated.
 - If the re-test results are negative, the employee will be eligible for assignment with Adecco.

Failure to pass a drug test prohibits an employee from employment at Adecco for a period of one (1) year. Reinstatement to Adecco employment may only be accomplished providing the employee has a negative result on a drug test at the end of the one (1) year waiting period. The test is to be completed at the employee's expense and at a facility designated by Adecco (or as otherwise allowed by State law).

Information for Employees:

For companies or individuals who require salary information you will obtain a Salary Key authorizing release of your salary information. Without this Key the verifier will not be able to access your salary information, however they will be able to access employment information. If you need to provide salary verification to more than one company, you will need to obtain one Salary Key for each company. Please note that you can have only 3 Salary Keys outstanding. If unused, the Salary Keys will expire automatically after 6 months. This action is not required for companies or individual who require only verification of employment and not salary information.
